New Student Orientation

New Student Orientation allows students the opportunity to learn about NMSU Grants' services, resources, academic expectations, strategies for success, and student organizations. New Student Orientation is mandatory for all new incoming Freshman or transfer students. Orientation is offered online or in-person on the NMSU Grants campus. The online New Student Orientation is available to students at any time with permission from Admissions. Students can learn more about in-person options by contacting Admissions at (505) 287-6678.
