

ANTHROPOLOGY

Professor, Rani T. Alexander, Department Head

Professors Alexander, Arakawa, Scott; Stanford, Walker; Associate Professors Jenks; Assistant Professors Olszowy; University Museum Curator Hartell; Emeritus Professors Benefit, Chaiken, Conelly, Eber, McCrossin, O'Leary, Pepion, Rushforth, Staski, Trevathan.

R. T. Alexander, Department Head, Ph.D. (New Mexico)– Mesoamerican archaeology, historical archaeology of Yucatan, ethnohistory and colonialism, agrarian ecology, zooarchaeology; F. Arakawa, Ph.D. (Washington State)– prehistoric American Southwest, lithic technological organization, pottery in Mesa Verde region, sociopolitical organization in tribal-level societies; N. Hartell, MA (New Mexico State) - museum studies, exhibition, collections research, southern New Mexico and Latin America; K. Olszowy, Ph.D. (Binghamton) - economic development and chronic disease risk, sex/gender-based disparities in obesity risk, mental and physical health outcomes associated with natural disasters, child growth and development, and the biology of poverty; M. A. T. Scott, Ph.D. (Kentucky)– medical Anthropology, public health, transnational migration, Latin America; L. Stanford, Ph.D. (Florida)– agriculture, organizations, food studies, globalization, sociocultural anthropology, Latin America; W. Walker, Ph.D. (Arizona)– Southwestern archaeology, theory and field method in archaeology, ritual prehistory.